

Environmental policy

We commit ourselves to continually improve our overall performance in the sector of environmental protection on the basis of applicable law and by observing all legal requirements.

We develop high-quality, innovative products which – during all phases of their life cycle – enable the greatest possible environmental compatibility. Process optimisation during all stages of production and maintenance also ensures a careful handling of the available resources. To assure safe production processes we regularly adjust our equipment to the state of the art.

Our employees are updated and trained regularly to gain maximum ecological awareness. We also include our suppliers and customers in this process and actively communicate with the public and environmental authorities to minimise adverse effects on the environment.

Our long-term oriented company policy will ensure our compliance with future demands on environmental protection and sustainability worldwide.

Mankiewicz Gebr. & Co

Michael Grau
CEO